

Hello!

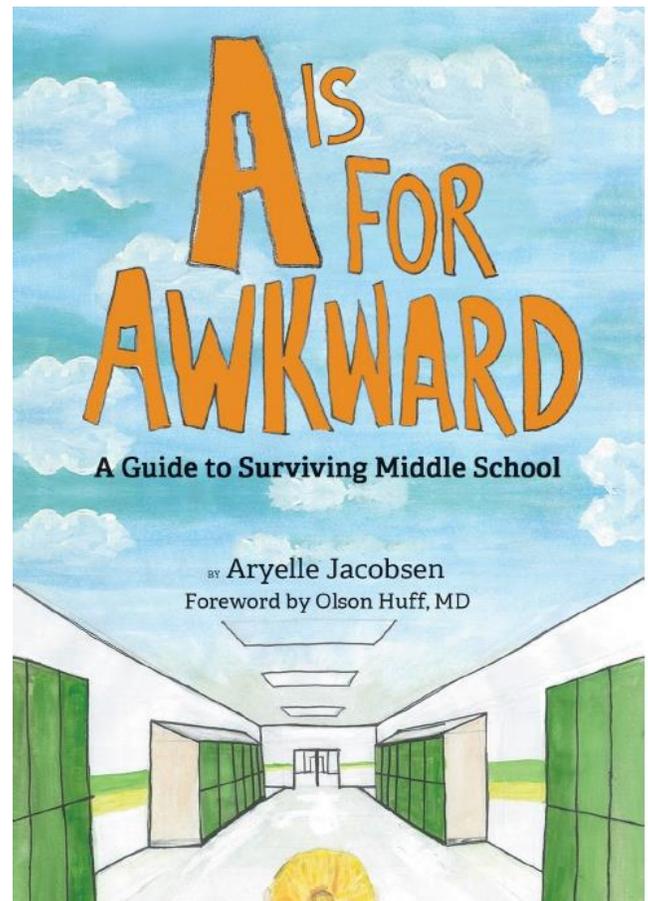

My name is Aryelle Jacobsen and I'm a senior at AC Reynolds High School in Asheville, North Carolina. I wrote a book entitled A is for Awkward: A Guide to Surviving Middle School. One of my goals is to get a copy of this book into the hands of as many middle schoolers and organizations as possible. I am eager to partner with you to achieve that goal. I have negotiated a significant discount for larger orders. There may be people you know who would be interested in A is for Awkward so I invite you to share this bulk pricing sheet with them.

With your support, we can equip middle school students to claim a more confident sense of who they are and to remember that they are not alone.

The purchase of the book retail is $7.95. We also have a curriculum for educators available, please contact us for more information. Below is the sliding scale available for bulk purchase:

Quantity	Discount
50+	5%
250+	10%
500+	15%
1,000+	20%
2,500+	25%

A is for Awkward is a book centered around the importance of gaining healthy self-esteem and helping teens realize that they're not alone. It's a book of encouragement and real-world advice written in a relatable style that resonates with teens. Every page has a letter of the alphabet paired with a unique work of art and a word that is discussed in a paragraph below. Topics from the importance of understanding puberty to the power of relationships are just a few examples of the significant subjects discussed in A is for Awkward. At the end of the book there's a list of resources including helpful phone numbers and websites available for teens. The goal of A is for Awkward is to help middle school students feel comfortable in their own skin, addressing various topics providing advice, encouragement, and resources they can use. The book was written and illustrated by older teens for younger teens, demonstrating how youth can and will make a difference in society. This book explores those ever so dreaded awkward years and how one can turn their middle school experience into positive stage of gaining self-esteem, developing healthy relationships, and encouraging one another.
